

Real Python Part 3: Advanced Web Development with Django 1.6

Jeremy Johnson

Contents

1	Introduction	5
	Welcome to Advanced Web Programming	5
	License	10
	Conventions	11
	Errata	13
2	Software Craftsmanship	14
	Unit Testing in Django	16
	Testing Django Routing	19
	Testing Templates and Views	21
	Behind the Scenes – Running unittests with Django	23
	Mocks, Fakes, Test Doubles, Stubs...	26
	Testing Models	32
	Testing Forms	38
	Conclusion	41
	Exercises:	43
3	Test Driven Development	44
	The TDD Workflow	45
	Implementing TDD with Existing Code	47
	Offense is only as good as your worst Defense	55
	Conclusion	59
	Exercises	60

4	Git Branching at a Glance	61
	Git Branching	62
	Branching Models	63
	Exercise	71
5	Upgrade, Upgrade, and Upgrade some more	72
	Django 1.6	72
	The Upgrade	73
	Upgrading to Python 3	78
	Python 3 Changes things slightly	88
	Upgrading to PostgreSQL	89
	Conclusion	93
	Exercise	94
6	Graceful Degradation and Database Transactions with Django 1.6	95
	Improved Transaction Management	100
	What is a transaction?	101
	What's wrong with transaction management prior to Django 1.6?	102
	What's right about transaction management in Django 1.6?	104
	SavePoints	109
	Nested Transactions	111
	Conclusion	113
	Exercises.	115
7	Building a Membership Site	116
	It's time to make something cool	116
	A Membership Site	117
	The User Stories	118
8	Bootstrap 3 and Best Effort Design	119
	Start with the User Story	120
	Overview of what we have	121
	Installing Bootstrap 3	122
	Making Bootstrap your own	124

HTML5 Sections and the Semantic Web	129
More Bootstrap Customizations	134
Custom template tags	140
Conclusion	147
Exercises	148
9 Building the Members Page	149
Showing User Info for the Current User	151
Gravatar Support	155
Status Updating and Reporting	158
Exercises	163
10 REST	164
Structuring a REST API	165
REST for MEC	168
Django REST framework	169
Now Serving JSON	180
Using Class-Based Views	186
Authentication	189
Conclusion	192
Exercises	193
11 Appendix A - Solutions to Exercises	194
Chapter 2	194
Chapter 3	198
Chapter 8	203
Chapter 9	215
Chapter 10	222